Gould's Academy.

Gould's Academy was incorporated by act of the Legislature, January 27, 1836, and opened the following September, with Isaac Randall, a graduate of Bowdoin College, as its first Principal. Since that time, the school has continued in active operation, and has always enjoyed a large share of public confidence. Located in a healthful and thriving village, and surrounded by picturesque scenery, its advantages for the moral and physical development of the student are unsurpassed. Bethel, a town of about twenty-five hundred inhabitants, is situated among the hills of Oxford County, Maine. No section of New England surpasses it in the beauty of its scenery. The mountains near by are detached members of the Appalachian system; the Androscoggin river winds slowly through the beautiful valley, just at the foot of the low hill upon which the village is built. The village is on the Grand Trunk Railway, in easy communication with Lewiston, Portland, and Boston.

The people of the town have high ideals, are refined and educated; they are loyal to the school and all its interests, and contribute in no small degree to the pleasure of student life at Bethel. The church and social relations are far ahead of the ordinary New England village. Scholars here, breathing the invigorating mountain air, free from the distracting influences of larger towns, have every incentive to high scholarly attainments. These advantages were early recognized, and the success of the school from its organization has been a source of gratification to those having its welfare in charge. Students have centered here from all parts of Maine and from other States, and not a few of the Cuban patriots, whose struggles for freedom won the admiration of the world, caught their first inspiration of liberty, while residing among the hills of Oxford County, and pursuing their studies at Gould's Academy in Bethel.

The school aims not only to prepare its students for the higher institutions of learning, but, through the foundation

Aim of correct habits of thought and action, to fit them to face wisely and fearlessly the problems that will confront them in after life. Its present standards, its methods, its ideals are upon the lines the most earnest educators of the day are approving. Especial care is taken to secure and retain teachers of character and scholarship, teachers who realize the nobility of their calling and who purpose to make the profession of teaching a lifework. The close attention to the individual needs of each pupil is a special feature of the school. Being under the almost constant oversight of their teachers, the students are trained to habits of regularity and application, and receive, in the fullest degree, the benefits which come from close personal association with their instructors.

There are two distinct courses of study, classical and academic. Each is of four years, and designed to be Courses of of equally high standard or requirements. The Study classical course is designed for those who intend to continue their education in some of our higher institutions. The course may be varied to meet the requirements of any college. Special attention is given to securing good idiomatic English translations of the languages studied. Practice is also had in reading the ancient languages at sight, making ability to do this the real test of proficiency. But while facility in translating Greek and Latin is deemed of special importance in a student's preparation, still, the greatest good comes from the constant exercise of carefully deciding questions of grammatical construction, hence this is given careful attention throughout the entire course. Latin Composition is taken in connection with Cicero, Greek Composition in connection with the Anabasis, Mythology in connection with Virgil. The academic course is intended for those who want a good general education as a preparation for their life-work. This course, well completed, fits students for the higher technical or scientific schools, for teaching, or for practical every-day life. Special attention is paid to those studies which, year by year, are more demanded from educated persons—notably, the English studies. The foreign languages, besides being studied for their own sake, are pursued with a view to a better understanding of our own English language.

Candidates applying for admission to the school must present testimonials of good moral character from Admission at least two persons, together with statements certifying to their standing in the school last attended. Students beginning either course must be proficient in United States History and Geography, must have a good general knowledge of Arithmetic, and some acquaintance with English Grammar. Applicants for admission to advanced standing in either course must furnish satisfactory evidence that they have carefully performed the work previously done by the class they propose to enter. All students are strongly urged to enter upon a regular course; but those who do not care to do this may take such studies as seem best adapted to their individual needs.

A definite standard of scholarship is required, and any student whose average rank for the year falls below this Promotions standard will not be promoted. The rank is obtained from the daily recitations, from monthly written examinations, and from oral examinations held during the last week of each term. An average rank of at least seventy per cent. must be attained in order to secure promotion. A report of the standing of each pupil is sent to parent or guardian at the close of each term.

The Academic year closes with appropriate literary exercises in which the candidates for graduation participate, Graduation followed by the presentation of diplomas by the President of the Board of Trustees or by the Principal of the school. The sermon before the graduating class is given the previous Sunday. The Commencement Concert occurs on the evening of the day of graduation, and the following evening a public reception is tendered by the graduates to the students and their friends.

Gould's Academy was one of the first schools to be approved by the New England College Entrance Certificate Admission Board, hence its graduates are now admitted to to College the following New England colleges on certificate of the Principal: Williams College, Amherst College, Boston University, Brown University, Dartmouth College, Mount Holyoke College, Smith College, Tufts College, Wellesley College, Wesleyan University, Bowdoin College, Bates College, Colby College, and the University of Maine. Students may be prepared for any college, and having completed such preparation, will be recommended to the Freshman Class of the college they desire to enter. It is believed that, with a curriculum approved by the best educators of the State, and with thoroughly qualified teachers at the head of its various departments, Gould's Academy can fit its students to compare favorably with those of any similar institution in New England.

The gymnasium is equipped for basket-ball, and is, at present, supplied with dumb bells, clubs, wands, military Physical sticks, parallel and horizontal bars, chest weights, Training flying and traveling rings, etc. Needed apparatus will be added from time to time. Systematic gymnastic drills are given during the cold weather, when it becomes necessary to discontinue outdoor exercise. Tennis, basket-ball, base-ball, and other outdoor sports are encouraged during the spring and fall terms. The students have an Athletic Association, and the school maintains a good standing in general athletics.

Regular work in declamation and composition writing is conducted throughout the course. Each student shall Rhetorical declaim not less than twice each term, except upon Work written request of parent or guardian. Such requests are rare, and are not, as a rule, for the best interest of the student. Students excused from declamations by request of parents are not eligible to a class part at graduation. Class work in elocution, free to the whole school, is required of all students throughout the entire course. The more advanced students are required to furnish original essays, while the younger re-produce from memory, in writing, selections read to them. A Prize Contest, open to the whole school, takes place at the close of the winter term, at which prizes are offered for excellence in declamation and recitation.

Prizes have been awarded as follows during the past year:
Ladies' first prize for excellence in declamation, to Prizes Florence H. Mercier. Gentlemen's first prize for excellence in declamation, to J. Harold Young.

If a sufficient number desire it, a class in Parliamentary Law will be conducted by the Principal during at Parliamentary least one term of the year. In this class pupils Law are taught, by actual practice, the laws and principles of parliamentary usage; they are led, by gradual degrees, to take part in impromptu speech-making, and, from time to time, conduct debates on current topics. The object is to stimulate self-possession, aid facility of thought and expression, and teach the manner of conducting a public meeting "decently and in order."

The Academy Library is well supplied with books of reference, standard works of literature, history and Library biography. It contains several hundred volumes, nearly all selected with special reference to utility in school work. The library is open daily for the consultation and withdrawal of books, and access may be had at any time to the best encyclopedias, dictionaries and gazeteers as aids to study. About one hundred volumes have recently been added to the reference library.

The Reading Room is pleasantly located, adjoining the main study-room. It is supplied with daily and weekly
Reading- newspapers, educational journals, and the standard Room monthly magazines and reviews. To stimulate a desire for knowledge of what is going on in the world around us, the students are required as a part of their work in English, to write reviews of certain magazines, and once or twice a week, a morning is devoted to the discussion of current events.

The Cabinet contains one of the best collections of minerals and fossils to be found in any secondary school in Cabinet and Maine. These are arranged in cases and catalogued, making them a valuable aid in the study of Geology and Mineralogy. There are, also, chemical and physical apparatus, globes, maps, charts, Yaggy's Anatomical Study, etc. The Complete Crowell Physical Laboratory Cabinet has been added to the equipment of the Laboratory during the past year.

The Herald is published by the students twice each year, and is devoted to the interests of the school in general. Its chief object is to encourage the students Academy Herald to literary effort, and to keep the alumni and the general public in touch with the school.

The object of the school government and regulations is the foundation of systematic habits of study, good Government and Discipline manners and correct morals. The school must depend largely upon the reason and judgment of its students to promote a high standard of manliness and womanliness, hence no pains are spared to cultivate a keen sense of propriety and a high and clear conception of honor. Only those students who are willing to conform to the wishes of their teachers and make their school work of first importance are wanted; and those whose work or conduct continues unsatisfactory, after due admonition, will be dismissed from the school.

During the daily sessions, students study at the Academy under the eye of the Principal. Evening study Regulations hours begin at 7.30, and students are expected to be in their rooms from that time until the hour of retiring. Students are expected to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, to be punctual and regular in attendance upon all the school exercises, and to conduct themselves properly at all times. The use of intoxicating liquors, tobacco, profane or vulgar language is forbidden. Continuous attendance is urged upon all. It is important that every student be present the first, and remain until the last day of the term. Parents are urgently requested to visit the school and to correspond with the teachers relative to their children.

As a majority of the students who attend Gould's Academy are entitled to have their tuition paid by their respective towns, attention is hereby called to the following extract from Chapter 68 of the Public Laws of the State of Maine for 1903, entitled,

AN ACT FOR THE BETTER EDUCATION OF YOUTH.

SECTION 1. Any youth who resides with parent or guardian in any town which does not support and maintain a free high school giving at least one four years' course properly equipped and teaching such subjects as are taught in secondary schools of standard grade in this State may, when he shall be prepared to pursue such four years' course, attend any school in this State which does have such a four years' course and to which he may gain entrance by permission of those having charge thereof, provided said youth shall attend a school or schools of standard grade which are approved by the State Superintendent of Public Schools. In such case tuition of such youth, not to exceed thirty dollars annually for any one youth, shall be paid by the town in which he resides as aforesaid, and towns are hereby authorized and required to raise annually as other school moneys are raised, a sum sufficient to pay such tuition charges.

As is seen from the above law, any student in the State of Maine, residing in a town which does not maintain a free high school of standard grade, may, when he shall be prepared to pursue high school studies, attend Gould's Academy without tuition charges. Students from other States, and all other students to whom this law does not apply, will be charged tuition at the following rates.

|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Common English, per term,             | $7.00 |
| Higher English, per term,             | $8.00 |
| Languages, per term,                  | $8.00 |
| Tuition, per half term,               | $4.50 |
| Elocution, private lessons, per hour, | .50    |
| Elocution, class lessons, free.       |        |

Each student is charged 25 cents per term to assist in supporting the Reading-Room and Library. Students taking Book-keeping are charged the same as for higher English.

Tuition is due Monday of the sixth week of each term. No deduction is made for absence of less than half a term.

Board in private families costs from $2.75 to $3.25 per week, or proportionately less if students go home Friday night and return Monday morning. For those who wish to board themselves, good rooms can be secured at reasonable rates.

For further information, or to engage board or rooms, address the Principal.

FRANK E. HANSCOM, Principal, Bethel, Maine.

Thoughts by the Way.

"Education is not to make us seem greater to the world, but that the world and all life and all eternity may seem greater and richer and more beautiful to us."

"The most sublime sight in the world is that of a young person fighting his way up from the pit of ignorance to the sunlit heights of knowledge; fighting against poverty and heredity and environment; fighting in the teeth of fate; fighting against destiny itself and beating it down inch by inch."

"Since education makes us better men and women; happier, broader, deeper, higher, and finer, and therefore capable of doing more good in the world, and capable of making others better, happier, broader, deeper, higher and finer, then it is as much our duty to be educated as it is to be honest; and no man has any more right to deprive his children of an education than he has to withhold from them their daily bread."
